Designations:

CFP® - Certified Financial Planner

The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™, CFP® and federally registered CFP (with flame design) marks (collectively, the “CFP® marks”) are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”).

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board’s studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor’s Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board’s financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning;
- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one’s ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one’s knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances;
- Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and
- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board’s Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

- i. Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and
- ii. Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board's enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.

(CTSTM) - Certified Tax Specialist™

- The CTSTM (Certified Tax Specialist™) is a professional designation granted in the United States by the Institute of Business & Finance (IBF).
- CTSTM is a voluntary designation; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold the CTSTM designation. It is a graduate-level designation conferred upon candidates who complete a 135+ hour educational program focusing on personal income taxes and methods to reduce tax liability. CTSTM certification requires mastery of the basic income tax formula and its computation, retirement plans, deductions, credits, capital gains, depreciation, payroll taxes and tax planning.
- To attain the right to use the CTSTM, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements: Pass two comprehensive exams, complete a written case study, and adhere to the IBF Code of Ethics and IBF Standards of Practice as well as fulfill annual continuing education requirements. The CTSTM program is designed for brokers and advisors who have clients interested in maximizing their after-tax returns as well as reducing their overall tax liability.

IACCP® - Investment Adviser Certified Compliance Professional

The INVESTMENT ADVISER CERTIFIED COMPLIANCE PROFESSIONAL® or IACCP® certification is voluntary and is sponsored by COMPLY and the Investment Adviser Association (IAA). No federal or state law or regulation requires investment adviser compliance professionals to hold the IACCP designation. More information about the IACCP designation can be found at <https://www.comply.com/services/education-iaccp>.

IACCP Designees have met high standards for education, examination, experience, and agree to adhere to professional and ethical standards. To become an IACCP Designee, an individual must fulfill the following requirements:

- Education: The IACCP Program coursework consists of 17 required compliance courses and three electives. The courses are grouped into the following categories: the Advisers Act, Disclosures, Trading, Mandates, Ethics, Skills, and Electives. All are two hours in length and are available either live/in-person or live/online.

- Examination: Pass the comprehensive IACCP Certifying Examination. The Examination tests the candidate's knowledge of investment adviser regulations as well as industry best practice, as presented in the IACCP education courses and material. This representation of industry best practice is driven by compliance industry consensus and periodic job task analysis, gained through subject matter experts with decades of experience in the compliance field. The purpose of the IACCP Examination is to help ensure that investment adviser compliance professionals have a minimum level of general foundation knowledge related to applicable regulatory laws, rules, requirements, and certain best practices.
- Experience: Provide proof of a minimum of two years of work experience relating to investment adviser compliance.
- Ethics: Complete an Ethics Assessment and agree to adhere to the IACCP Code of Ethics and Professional Standards of Conduct.

Individuals who become certified as IACCP Designees must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements to maintain the right to continue to use the IACCP designation.

- Continuing Education: Complete 12 professional continuing education (CE) credit hours each year. Two (2) of the 12 credit hours must be earned by attending an approved ethics program(s). The purpose of the IACCP Continuing Education Requirement is to ensure that IACCP Designees maintain and enhance professional competence; maintain the IACCP certification; review ethics and professional standards of conduct; remain current with regulatory changes and trends; refresh investment adviser compliance knowledge; and increase the level and depth of investment adviser knowledge. Credits can be earned by attending qualified educational programs offered through COMPLY, IAA, or certain other industry educational providers.
- Ethics: Commit to continued compliance with the IACCP Code of Ethics and Professional Standards of Conduct.
